To Whom It May Concern:

Reference: Alan A. Myers – Opequon Water Reclamation Facility Upgrade and Expansion

I have been involved in the wastewater profession over 35 years and have been involved in major wastewater facility construction projects from New York to Florida. In that time, I can say that I have experienced few construction firms that performed at the level of Alan A. Myers.

Management at the Opequon project has been outstanding. Issues, which have been few, have been dealt with professionally and in a very timely manner. The team has been innovative in they approach to difficult tasks that are experienced on a project the size of the Opequon Upgrade and Expansion.

Clearly, my most noteworthy observations of the management team has been their approach to safety and overall worksite orderliness. It has been nothing short of impressive.

Sincerely,

Jesse W. Moffett
